

Termination of Care Policy

Effective Date: June 1, 2026 | Version 1.0

Purpose

This policy establishes the procedures for ending the service relationship between Good Company and a client, whether initiated by the client/family or by Good Company. The goal is to ensure that all terminations are handled respectfully, with appropriate notice, and with care for the client's continued wellbeing.

Client-Initiated Termination

A client or their authorized representative may terminate services at any time and for any reason. To terminate services, the client or representative should:

- Notify Good Company in writing or by phone of the intent to terminate services
- Provide the effective date of termination
- Allow at least 7 days' notice when possible
- Settle any outstanding balance for services provided through the termination date

Good Company-Initiated Termination

Good Company reserves the right to terminate services in the following circumstances:

- Non-payment of fees after reasonable opportunity to resolve, as described in the Payment Policy
- Client's needs have evolved beyond Good Company's scope of service
- Unsafe working conditions in the client's home that cannot be reasonably mitigated
- Threats, harassment, or abuse directed at Good Company staff
- Breach of the service agreement by the client or family
- Discovery of misrepresentation regarding the client's condition or needs
- Suspected illegal activity in the home
- Inability to provide services that meet the client's safety needs

Standard Termination Notice

In most cases and when possible, Good Company will provide 14 days' written notice of termination. The notice will:

- State the reason for termination
- Specify the effective date of termination

- Identify any final billing amount
- Offer reasonable assistance with transition planning

Immediate Termination

Good Company may terminate services immediately, without standard notice, in the following circumstances:

- Threats or violence directed at staff
- Sexual harassment or inappropriate conduct
- Discovery of conditions that pose imminent safety risk to staff
- Discovery of suspected illegal activity
- Client requires heightened or emergency-level care beyond Good Company's scope

Termination Due to Client's Passing

In the event that a client passes away, services are suspended immediately upon notification. Good Company will refund any unused prepaid funds to the family or estate within 30 days, in accordance with the Payment Policy. No early termination fees apply.

Safety in Termination

When a client is at risk of being without needed support after termination, Good Company will:

- Notify the client's designated emergency contact
- Provide written information about alternative service providers
- If the client appears to be in danger, contact Michigan Adult Protective Services (855-444-3911)
- Where possible, maintain limited services through the transition period
- Document all transition planning efforts

Transition Support

When services are ending, Good Company will provide reasonable assistance to support a smooth transition, including:

- Information about resources for finding alternative providers (such as Michigan's Area Agency on Aging)
- Information about additional resources available in the community
- Coordination with the family or representative as authorized
- Return of any client property or keys in Good Company's possession
- Final visit summary or service report if requested

Final Billing and Refunds

All billing and refund matters related to termination follow the Payment Policy. In summary:

- A final invoice will be provided within 7 days of the termination date
- The invoice will include any outstanding balance for services rendered

- Payment is due within 14 days of the invoice date
- Any prepaid amounts for services not yet provided will be refunded within 30 days
- No early termination fees apply when termination is due to a client's passing, hospitalization that ends services, or transition to a higher level of care

Documentation

All terminations are documented, including:

- Date and reason for termination
- Party initiating the termination
- Notice provided
- Transition planning steps taken
- Final billing reconciliation
- Any resources or information provided

Records After Termination

All client information remains confidential after services end. Client records are retained according to the Records Retention Policy. In general, client agreements, intake forms, and visit records are retained for 7 years following the end of services; incident reports and complaint records are retained for 10 years; and records related to reports of suspected abuse are retained permanently.

Policy Review

This policy is reviewed annually. All staff members are required to read and acknowledge this policy.
